Bank Clearances Still Showing Up Well Despite the Strike and Weather.

Blue Monday in the Grain Pits-Bidding Spiritless-Poultry and Eggs in Demand and Prices Strong-Wholesale Grocers Busy.

MONEY AND STOCKS,

Local Bank Clearances Still Above Those of Last Year at the Same Date.

Yesterday's statement of the Indianapolis clearing-house shows that the business of the city has not, apparently, yet been affected by the street-car strike, the bank clearances being over $200,000 more than on Jan. 11 last year. The report is as fol-

Jan. 11, 1891. Jan. 11, 1892. $775,896.80 40,033,98 Clearances.....$982,949.72 Balances..... 66,12 0 NEW YORK QUOTATIONS.

At New York, yesterday, money on cal was easy, ranging from 31/2 to 3 per cent. the last loan being made at 3, closing offered at 3 per cent.

Prime mercantile paper, 412 @6 per cent. Sterling exchange was quiet and steady at $4.83 for sixty-day bills and $4.85 for demand.

The total sales of stocks were 518,528 chares, including the following: Atchi-800, 31,150; Chicago Gas, 19,985; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 9,700; Erie, 14,795; Louisville & Nashville, 19,765; Northwestern, 3,580; Northern Pacific preferred, 9,824; New England, 40,700; Reading, 139,650; Richmond & West Point, 18,460; St. Paul, 28,450; Union Pacific, 17,708; Western Union, 4,840.

The New York stock market yesterday was still rather reactionary in its temper, but the weakness noted was more the effect of free dealings in Reading than in any desire to liquidate in the general list, and except in a few instances the final changes were insignificant. The market throughout the day was inclined to settle down to comparative quietness, and only the heavy trading in Reading brought the total transactions up to the high figure they stood at for the day and the stubbornness with which quotations held their level, yielding only here and there and at intervals to pressure, was very reassuring to holders of stocks. The West took the grangers and the declaration of the dividends on the first and second incomes of the Reading at first stimulated considerable buying, but the flood of securities poured out by the Philadelphia people finally broke the strength of the general list and almost everything was finally brought down below the level of the opening figures. New England was still a leading feature of the market and especially in the early dealings displayed marked strength, as did also Chicago Gas, but the later slump carried both of these properties back, wiping out most of their gains. Union Pacific was the leading strong stock at one time, but its advance was not sufficient to hurry it against the late selling movement. The weakest point in the market was Distillers, which steadily declined throughout the entire day and finally closed with the heaviest loss recorded for the day.

The opening was generally at insignifi-cant changes from Saturday's prices and considerable activity marked the early dealings, with some improvement in prices, though only New England displayed any marked strength. The pressure became too much for the decreasing demand and prices yielded before noon without making any important losses outside of Distillers. The Richmond & West Point stocks were strong, however, but moved within narrow limits. Among the specialties only Pullman scored a material gain, The whole market rallied after the announcement of the dividends on Reading, but later the selling for Philadelphia account wiped out the advances and the list never regained its strength during the day. The close was active and weak, generally at small fractions below Saturday's prices, but the only material losses were 2% in Distillers and 1 per cent. in Reading, while Chicago Gas scored a final gain of 1 per cent.

Railroad bonds displayed the same temper as stocks, and while retaining a great deal of their late strength failed to move outside of the narrowest limits, and the late selling of the Reading incomes weakened the general list to an appreciable extent. The transactions reached $3,032,000, but of this amount $551,000 were Reading seconds, $352,000 Reading firsts, $179,000 Reading thirds, and $237,000 Atchison incomes. Louisville & Nashville unified Government bonds were dull and easier. State bonds were neglected. Closing quotations were:

THE JOBBING TRADE.

Grocers Reported to Be Enjoying a Slight Boom-Sugars May Be Lower. Trade was active among wholesale grocers yesterday. Traveling salesmen brought in good orders Saturday, and many mail orders followed Monday. Sugars are 1/16c lower in the East, but no change has yet been made in the selling price here. The refiners are again reported to be squab-bling, which may lead to radical reductions in prices. This, however, is only a surmise, as the trust's quarrels do not always result in price-cutting.

Amusement for Winter Evenings. Philadelphia Inquirer. "Shouting proverbs," as old as the hills, is to be in this season's swim. There is good deal of fun connected with the game, provided there are no nervous people on hand. The proverb being selected, a word from it is passed to each person. When the party banished is allowed to return he is not given an opportunity to question each player, but at a signal all call out at once the words of the proverb, and in the uproar the one on duty must try to catch a word or words that will aid him in solving the whole adage. From the one giving the guesser the most help a forfeit is de-manded, and the last player tripped up in this way takes his place. Popcorn frolics are given an air of di versity by the introduction at the same time of the amusing game called "Shadows." Across a door-way or bay-window is stretched a sheet, behind which a watcher is placed without a light, this being stationed on a table several feet from the opposite side of the curtain. Now each member of the party passes before it and the person tries to recognize from shadow the individual to whom it belongs. Of course the more grotesque the cut of the figure the more mystified the watcher becomes. The first one recognized takes the chair. Gipsey tents are being fitted up for the "at home" fortune teller. Palmistry is an unfailing source of amusement. The wise one studying up upon the important points will tell you that a deep line across the palm indicates a true heart; rosy creases a warm heart, and the cold, hard palm a frozen heart. All kinds of pretty stories are based upon the lines that hover about the wrist. A quick-witted reader will also discover certain peculiarities about the fingers. She scrutinizes the base of the forefinger, and there is found a tiny elevation called Jupiter's mount. If it holds a small cross it indicates an uncheckered life, with plenty of love thrown in for good measure. Where the lines are disturbed there is trouble ahead. Given a tambourine or a tinkling music-box, one or two fairy lights and a gay little gown, the amateur fortune-teller becomes a very realistic personage.

Lemon Patties-Put eight ounces of butter into an earthenware jar, with the wellbeaten yolks of eight fresh eggs, eight ounces of finely-sifted white sugar, the strained juice of two fresh lemons and the grated rind of three; in grating the lemon rind part of the pulp will adhere to the grater, and this must be removed by rubbing the grater afterward with a tiny bit of stale bread, letting the crumbs, as far as possible, be added to the other ingredients; set the jar in a saucepan of boiling water, and stir the contents constantly with a small wooden spoon until the preparation becomes perfectly smooth and about the thickness of honey; then remove the jar from the water and set it in a cool place; when the patties are to be baked line out some small. shallow patty tins, with rich pastry rolled out very thin; put a small quantity of the lemon paste into each and bake for ten or twelve minutes in a brisk oven; when quite cold dust the top over very lightly with fine, white sugar, and serve, tastefully arranged, on a lace dishpaper. Snow-Covered Fields and Weak Cables Used by the Bears to Depress the Market-Corn Steady and Oats Weak-Provisions Easy.

TRADING AT CHICAGO.

Wheat Takes Another Tumble, Going of 11ge from Saturday's Close. CHICAGO, Jan. 11.-Wheat took another tumble in price to-day, closing 140 lower than it left off on Saturday. The chief factor in the depression was the snow-fall, which was reported as covering practically the entire wheat belt and which dissapated the growing fears for the effect of the cold weather on the plant, which had already been tried rather severely by alternate freezing and thawing. Most of the other news was also bearish. Cables were lower, domestic markets were all easy and the receipts in the Northwest were comparatively liberal. The board's Liverpool cable quoted spot wheat unchanged, but futures from 12d to 1d cheaper. Private cablegrams quoted the feeling in that market dull, with a dropping tendency. Mail advices from abroad were discouraging to the "bulls," the general tone of foreign letters being one of satisfaction with the present prospect of supplies for the remainder of the crop year. The selling orders were quite plenty, but the "shorts" showed a rather general disposition to cover on the break of the market. The offerings were readily absorbed and the break was not very serious for a considerable time after the opening. The price of May at the start was from 924c in some parts of the pit to 924c in others, but settled in a couple of seconds around the lowest of these quotations. There were sales in the course of the first five minutes as low as 925c, but sellers at 9240 were numerous during the first hour and a half of the session. Pardridge, during the above time, was scalping for eighths and sixteenths. There was no tento improvement until after a dispatch had been received reporting that Russia had prohibited exports of wheat from Finland. Following the latter inti-mation some covering of "shorts" put the price up to 92%c. About noon Beerbohm's second cable came to hand and as it quoted futures at Liverpool at from 4d to 2d lower and Paris 20 centines lower, the advance last noted was lost, and the price of May receded to a still lower level. The fact that the visible supply showed a decrease was made known at about the same time, but it failed to rally the market and under liberal selling it continued to go off in price till it touched 91% near the close and closed steady at 911/2c. There was a fair amount of speculative business done in corn, and prices were steady. In the cash market, however, there was considerable weakness and a decline of 1 cent in the price of through-billed. Very little was offered to go to store. Receipts were 200 cars, not one of which was of contract grade. There was a good demand for export reported from New York, thirty-two boat-loads being reported as having been taken there early in the day, and Saturday's clearances were given as 533,242 but day's clearances were given as 533,242 bu from the principal Atlantic ports. Cables were stronger. The close was at medium figures and a shade better than Saturday's for near-by options, but a little lower for

The trading in oats was light, and the market did little more than sympathize with wheat. May continued to monopolize the attention of traders to the almost total exclusion of everything else. The market shows a loss of 4c in value of that future. Hog products were quiet and easier. The receipts of live hogs at the yards were 60,000, or 10,000 more than estimated Saturday, and prices were 5@10e lower. The weakness in wheat was also felt sympathetically. There was some reaction from the lowest point and the changes at the close, compared with the prices of Saturday, are not marked. The estimated receipts for to-morrow are: Wheat, 288 cars; corn, 290 cars; oats, 245 cars; hogs, 54,000 head. The leading futures ranged as follows: Op'ning Highest. | Lowest. | Closing. Options. Wheat-Jan .. May ..... 9214 Corn-Jan .... Feb ..... Oats-Jan.... GRAIN AT HOME AND ABROAD,

Figures Showing the Quantity in Sight in the United States Last Saturday. NEW YORK, Jan. 11.-Following is a statement of the visible supply of grain, affoat and in store, on Saturday, Jan. 9, as compiled at the Produce Exchange: Wheat, 45,604,903 bu, a decrease of 63,821; corn, 7,919,465 bu, an increase of 838,268; oats, 3,677,835 bu, a decrease of 190,744; rye, 2,184,484 bu, a decrease of 131,501; barley, 1,945,701 bu, a decrease of 325,842. According to the Chicago Board of Trade report the visible supply of wheat decreased last week 304,000 bu, instead of 64,000 bu, as reported from the New York Produce Exchange. The Foreign Grain Trade. LONDON, Jan. 11 .- The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British grain trade, says: The prices of English wheats are in buyers' favor at an average decline of 6d; foreign wheats are dull, owing to the immense stock and continued deliveries. The holdings at the twelve leading British ports on Jan. 1, 1892, amounted to a total of two million quarters of wheat and 550,000 sacks of flour, against 1,400,000 quarters of wheat and 630,000 sacks of flour on Jan. 1, 1891. Corn declined 1 shilling, but an improved inquiry set in on the decline and prices became firmer. Fine malting barley is well held; grinding barleys are neglected. Oats are very quiet.

At to-day's market English wheats were in small supply and prices steady. Foreign wheats are slow of sale and prices declined. American fell 6d and Indian 9d. English and American flours dropped 6d. Oats are in large supply and prices down 6d. Corn is 6d dearer, new American ranging from 27s for immediate delivery to 24s for delivery within a month.

Heavy beet breeds of cattle only thrive well on farms that can supply abundant food, both in pasture and grain. They cannot forage over barren fields as numbly as the smaller breeds, and are not well adapted for steep hillsides. Colman's Rural World is responsible for the following interesting statement: "In the year 1706 the average weight of fat-tened steers in the London and Liverpool markets was but 310 pounds. This, too, at the average age of five years. In 1755 this average had increased to 482 pounds. In 1780 the weight was 650 pounds, more than double that of 1706. The average weight of the fattened steer to-day is four times what it was in 1706, only 184 years ago." H. H. Wing, in the Rural New Yorker, in discussing the value of corn-and-cob meal and timothy hay as a winter feed for a gentleman's driving horse, says: For my own use I should prefer a horse wintered on bright straw, with a liberal feed of bran, and, from the lat of March on, a few sound, whole oats. Such a diet would not be more expensive than the one of corn-
